This FREE introductory continuing education course (CAMS) covers key topics in personal automotive mobility solutions. This course will assist allied health professionals in understanding and advocating for individuals seeking vehicle modification options, while guiding them through the evaluation, selection and purchase process of appropriate mobility options.

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Describe the unique process involved in researching and evaluating mobility equipment solutions available for your clients
- Differentiate between key mobility equipment participants and providers in the automotive mobility equipment industry
- Identify useful mobility equipment resources to assist clients and their caregivers
- Summarize the risks of poor awareness about safe mobility equipment options
- Discuss general knowledge about accessible vehicles and adaptive equipment

WHO SHOULD ATTEND
